

TUESDAY, APRIL 26, 3 A. M.

TO OUR MAIL SUBSCRIBERS.—We announced some days ago that after the first of April we would increase the price of the Daily Journal to twelve dollars a year, and our country friends will please bear in mind to remit at that rate.

News.—This Journal will be delivered by the month to subscribers in any part of the city where a number sufficient to pay the expense of carriage will take it. Those persons desiring the Journal will please leave word at the office.

News.—The letter from Bowling Green, Ky., to be found on our first page, gives a full account of the destination and suffering of refugee women and children there. The persons of the place have most liberally relieved their wants to the extent of their ability, but they require assistance, as they have been compelled to make many sacrifices in the work of charity. We hope our liberally disposed citizens will endeavor to co-operate with them.

DISASTER.—On last Friday a melancholy accident occurred at Bowling Green. Miss Stockwell, a young lady of culture and beauty from Evansville, Ind., was on a visit to some friends in the county-seat of Warren. On Friday morning Miss S. is company with Miss Mary Cook and Miss Mollie Hobson, and on Mr. Baker, living on the opposite side of Warren river, for a walk to spend the day with his family. Late in the afternoon the young ladies started on their return to Bowling Green. The wind had risen high, and was blowing almost a gale. In attempting to cross the railroad bridge over Warren river, a sudden gust swept the surface and in spite of safeguards against the powerful blast Miss Stockwell and Miss Cook were carried over the edge of the bridge. Fortunately the skirts of Miss S. caught on the timbers and held fast until she could be rescued from her perilous condition. But no friendly jarred the fall of Miss S. She was blown from the giddy height, and fell with a heavy splash into the river, seventy feet below the point of the bridge. She was quickly recovered, but after all efforts to restore the vigor of life proved unavailing. She lingered about two hours after the fall. Her death is indeed a distressing blow to the extensive circle of friends of which she was the idol. So young, so talented, so beautiful, and a death so tragic! O! sigh for her loss, and a tear to bewail her memory!

ANARCHIST PUZZLES.—While excavating in Washington street, between First and Second streets, the workmen came upon a flat piece of limestone some ten feet below the surface, which gave rise to considerable conjecture, as it had upon one of its surfaces a rude carving of a human face. Some thought it was an Indian relic; others could not tell what to make of it, and some, not skilled in paleontology, regarded it as the petrified head of one of the aborigines. It would perhaps puzzle Dickens himself to guess its history, but we think it probably has been the work of some aspirant in the art of Phidias; perhaps some flat-faced man, years ago, has willed away the bones he found in the current of the stream, with which he came, and may have lost it overhand, where the water and the waters covered it, for the spot where it was found was once part of the bed of the river. The curious, who care to make any other conjecture, can find the relic at our office.

BARRACKS NEWS.—The transfers and re-assignments of regiments yesterday were very light. Eighteen transfers were made from various points. One hundred and four men, stragglers and recruits, were transferred during the day. Four deserts were forwarded to Cincinnati under guard, five to Gair, and forty-six to Nashville. Esziah McGlasson, company A, 6th Kentucky cavalry, found in New Albany without any written authority to absent from his regiment, was arrested and sent to this side of the river, to be held as a deserter. Thomas Bridgford, company E, 11th Kentucky cavalry, was arrested at Gair, charged with desertion; he will be forwarded to his regiment under guard for trial.

NEW APPOINTMENT.—By order of Col. S. D. Bruce, commanding 1st brigade, 24 division, District of Kentucky, Captain A. W. Trebil, 20th Kentucky volunteers, is appointed Pro-vest Marshal of the brigade. An Assistant Marshal is also appointed to his line, and a few were sent for him yesterday.

A motion was made to hold a court-martial for him, and the two Pro-vest Marshals will occupy offices, for the present, in the same building.

Smith was held to answer to the charge of murder before the next session of the Circuit Court. He was remanded back to prison. A large crowd was in attendance, and manifested much interest in the trial.

Smith's GIFT BOOKSTORE.—Mr. F. H. Smith has removed his Metropolitan Gift Bookstore from Milwaukee to this city, and presents himself to our readers in an advertisement this morning. The Milwaukee Daily Wisconsin says very highly of Mr. Smith as a reliable business man, and of his chief clerk, Mr. James Hutchinson. We do not exactly comprehend the character of the business, but the Wisconsin says:

"Mr. Smith always gives good books to purchase for his money, which is no less than they would have obtained at any book store, while he has also distributed very many accidentally. He is a man of great merit, and it is hard to say that he will not add to the strength of the establishment."

CANNON & BYERS.—A Mr. Proctor commenced an engagement at this house last night in Knickerbocker's tragedy of "Vivian Grey." The evening will appear as the Jibberish and his various disguises in the drama from Dr. Bird's novel of "Nick the Woods." Proctor's performance of this grand Kentucky character is regarded as a chef d'œuvre in the melodramatic line. It will be succeeded by the farce of the Obstinate Family, which we saw very well played the other night with the same cast.

GENERAL BURNETT'S ENTERTAINMENT.—All. Burnett's audience at the Masonic Hall last evening was even larger than that of Doe's. The audience was composed of persons who were varied, interesting, and infinitely amusing.

Mr. Burnett gives another entertainment to-night, with an entire change of programme. We anticipate for him another laugh and shooting scene.

A Mr. Ketchum was caught yesterday in the act of furnishing whisky to a soldier, hereby making the representative in blue beastly drunk. Mr. K. was reported under arrest to the Pro-vest Marshal, who ordered him to be furnished board and lodging in the Military Prison for a term of five days. Next time he violates a military order let him be sure that Ketchum is not caught.

Brigadier-General Prince was in the city, a guest of the Galt House, yesterday. He arrived from Louisville in the morning, and left for Cairo last night. We understand that he takes command of the forces at Cairo, and the troops stationed at intermediate points in that portion of the State.

A delirious soldier confined in the "Capitol," or Exchange Barracks, about 12 o'clock yesterday, sprang through the shadow of the second-story of the building, and fell with a heavy thud upon the hard pavement below, and injured himself quite severely.

General Burbridge will remove his headquarters from Louisville to Lexington. Louisville is more central, and thus best suited for a headquarters of the District of Kentucky. Colonel Bruce will be entrusted with the full charge of the city.

Odd Fellow.—This is the anniversary of the establishment of the Independent Order Odd Fellows in the United States, and we desire it will be appropriately celebrated by the brethren.

The Custom-house officials seized for violation one thousand dollars in gold, in transit to Nashville, on Sunday morning.

THOMAS ROBERT SMITH FOR THE MUNICIPAL LIBRARY.—Engaged in the case of Robert Smith, charged with the killing of Fred Landauer, at the United States Hotel, on Saturday evening about fire o'clock W. G. Resor, for the Commonwealth, and Hamilton Pope, Esq., for the defense. All the witnesses having been sworn.
